This Morning's News.

By the arrival of the Europa, we have later news from Europe.

The things from Sicily are very unsatisfactory. The Royalists continue to leave.

The Earl of G. P. R. James is announced [illegible]

The health of Prince JEROME is serious.

From Washington we learn that the bifurcated Democracy is trying to make "both ends meet" at Charleston—the result of which will be of immense importance to—themselves.

From California, we learn that a fight has occurred with the Indians near Pyramid Lake, in which 70 were killed. The steamer Golden Gate left California with $1,690,000.

Rot Clear in New England.—The Boston Post, the oldest and ablest Democratic paper in all New England, rejects the DOUGLAS ticket and runs up the names of BRECKINRIDGE and LANE. The Post says:

[illegible] will travel in that (the Douglas) road, it [illegible] as we can travel in. This spirit of [illegible] we believe to be evil to our country; to [illegible] evil, unless checked in some way, this spirit not now laid out, it must result in the [illegible] of the Democratic party. But, setting aside consequences, [illegible] to that [illegible] and [illegible] equally, in that [illegible] of the great party that has so long governed the country, and which is akin to the spirit that made [illegible] and secured our Constitution. In all our [illegible] has been no such dragooning [illegible] as under it is daily [illegible] by a bogus list to make up 202 [illegible] for a nomination thus made, in [illegible] to ruin to the man and ruin to the party. [illegible] under such circumstances, when the Convention [illegible] irregular body, and when the [illegible] between partial representations of the [illegible] party, we prefer the nominee of [illegible] condemnation of Senators Douglas [illegible] as individual members of the Democratic party, we express admiration of Senators Breckinridge and Lane. They are names that are fit to [illegible] Democratic rank and file throughout the country, the watchword of a trumpet.

One thing, however, must be borne in mind—this [illegible] in Baltimore's failure will meet with the condemnation of the masses of the great Democratic party [illegible] Maine to Texas, and from Georgia to Oregon. The [illegible] Douglas favor is not of their seeking. The movement in that party was entirely desired here [illegible] and had not been in past been shown to be [illegible] the nomination which it has been attempted to force upon them. The great party who have [illegible] and made the history of our glorious country during the opening of this century, may be disappointed [illegible] the report of ambitious politicians [illegible] at Baltimore; but the true Democratic [illegible] of Virginia will not tolerate those, who, being [illegible] in this quarrel, have by taking an active [illegible] widened and confirmed the breach.

Dred Scott Endorsed in the Douglas Convention.

From the detailed report of the proceedings in the Baltimore Douglas Convention, as reported for the Baltimore Sun, we copy the following:

Gov. WICKLIFFE, of Louisiana, on behalf of the committee of [illegible] offered a resolution respecting the [illegible] of territories by the Government [illegible] and of inhabitants in the territories.

Mr. JOHNSON called the previous question.

Mr. DAVIS, of Va., produced a sga nst the resolution, as it [illegible] unnecessary nature, and did not, in its language, [illegible] anything at all.

The main question was ordered, and the resolution adopted, with a few dissenting voices. It is as follows:

Resolved, That it is in accordance with the true interpretation of the Cincinnati platform that during the existence of territorial government, the measure of restriction, whatever it may be, imposed by the federal constitution on the action of the Territorial Legislature over the subject of domestic relations, as the same has been, or shall hereafter be finally determined by the Supreme Court of the United States, should be respected by all good citizens, and enforced with promptness and fidelity by every branch of the federal government.

This "nod to the South," conceded at the last moment by the Douglasites, is of course intended as a full and explicit endorsement of the DRED SCOTT decision.

Two Significant Facts.

The prompt acceptance, by Vice-President BRECKINRIDGE and General JOE LANE, of the nominations tendered them by the National Democratic convention at Baltimore, and the simultaneous refusal of Senator FITZPATRICK, of Alabama, to run on the DOUGLAS ticket, removes all doubts—if any yet remained—as to the issue of the November Election. The Baltimore ticket has been endorsed by the Seceders' Convention at Richmond and will, it is already manifest, distance the DOUGLAS nominees in all of the Southern States. The South are evidently in earnest and mean to kill off "the little Giant," coute qui coute. It is not improbable—indeed it would be but "human nature"—that the DOUGLAS men in the Free States will take good care that the South takes nothing by this motion.

"Douglas in Wisconsin."

The Chicago Times (DOUGLAS organ) of yesterday, publishes a letter from WAUKEGAN descriptive of the enthusiasm for the Illinois Senator there, under the queer heading, "DOUGLAS in Wisconsin." When was WAUKEGAN annexed to this State?

The same paper contains a letter from Milwaukee, giving a very fanciful account of the reception, in this city, of the news of the Baltimore nomination, from which we take the following:

"Milwaukee city and county gave Buchanan 4,600 majority four years ago, and you may rely upon an increased vote for it now. Our wards and towns are sure for at least five thousand majority for the champion of popular sovereignty."

Humbug! If DOUGLAS gets half the majority in this County that BUCHANAN did, he will do better we think, than the Republicans concede, or his well-posted friends claim.

DOUGLAS IN VIRGINIA.—Governor WISE and the Richmond "Enquirer" have declared for BRECKINRIDGE and LANE. This is a fatal blow to DOUGLAS in Virginia. And where Virginia leads, most, if not all, the Southern States will follow.

DEMOCRATIC CONGRESSIONAL CONVENTION.—The Democratic Convention to nominate a candidate in the Second Congressional District in this State is to be held at Prairie du Chien on the 29th of August.

"Small fry suits a great maw"—that's the fishyest wish we ever heard.

FIRE AT COLUMBUS.—The furniture establishment of Mr. Colville, of Columbus, was destroyed by fire on Tuesday morning. Loss $3,000; insurance $1,000.

The Pier Light House.

We have already alluded to an appropriation at the recent session of Congress for a new light at the head of our pier, and have given credit to our Representative, Mr. POTTER, for efficiency and success in the matter. We did so because we observed a persistent effort on the part of the News, and (we think) Judge LARRABEE himself, to claim for LARRABEE the credit. We have not made a practice of lauding Mr. POTTER for attending to his business. His constituents sent him to Congress expecting that he would do his duty, and we have yet to learn that they have been disappointed in their man, nor have we, on the other hand, called the particular attention of the voters of the Third District, to the very frequent absence of their Member from his place, not only where he felt it his duty to attend State and National Conventions, but also when he has been actually in Washington City, but engaged in something that he likes better than work.

If Judge LARRABEE has meddled in our Lighthouse matter at all, we question whether it has been any help, and we also question his motive, but that Mr. POTTER did not attend to it, and did not by his efforts and attention secure the appropriation, we deny; and, in proof, we quote from the official record. We have before us a printed report, made in the House of Representatives April 2, 1860, by Mr ELIOT, from the Committee on Commerce. The following are the opening sentences of the report:

"The Committee on Commerce, to whom was referred the memorial of shippers, navigators and others, asking for an appropriation for a Lighthouse at Milwaukee, in the State of Wisconsin, now report:

That early in the session of the present Congress the attention of the committee was called to the necessity of a Lighthouse at Milwaukee, by the Hon. John F. Potter, representative from that district, who also addressed a letter to the chairman of the committee on the subject, which is made a part of this report."

This is the report in which the appropriation was made.

We have no pleasure in following Judge LARRABEE or the News in their prowling to injure JOHN F. POTTER, but having the evidence at hand to blast this last attempt, we have used it.

Tommy-tudes of the New Yorkers.

Some of the New York papers evince symptoms of weariness at the Japanese furore. There is an evident desire on the part of a portion of the Press to laugh at some of the antics being performed by the ladies and gentlemen of the big city before the "pig tail Mongolians."

The World has actually "pitched into" Tommy—in a round-a-bout way, and several of the other papers "pitch into" the World. This is highly interesting. New York appropriated thirty thousand dollars to the task of showing up the Asiatic guests.—Let us hope that they will not get into a squabble before the money is all spent.—TOMMY, it seems, is more of a lion than was expected. If the stories are true, he is beset by the ladies, who follow him about continually, to get a few braids of his pig tail or a squeeze of his beautifully bronzed arms. They love him to death; not so much for his tea-chest-hieroglyphics to adorn their albums, not out of sheer curiosity—not to learn how the great Tycoon is—but—we blush to speak it—because he is such a dear, gallant, copper colored fellow!

What bothers us most is that we never hear of any of the fair creatures writing to the rest of the Embassy: Are they all old "Bache"? Are they too celestial? Or is it that TOMMY is the only good looking chap in the party? Think of it Americans! and let your hearts burn with indignation.—Many of you have been for months, if not years, striving to gain the attention of the fair ones, and in vain, and here comes this "furriner," who wipes his nose with a piece of paper, and carries all their hearts by storm!

It is to be regretted, no doubt. But the worst is to come. Already bonnets a la Tommy are being fashioned. The hair dressers are fixing the hair of the New York bloods after the delightful fashion introduced by TOMMY. Tommy-calities are announced at the Theatres. Tommy nota paper and Extract de Tommy will soon be all the vogue. So wags the Eastern world. Tommy has Japanned everything.

FIRE.—The Woolen Factory in Cumbridgeport, (Rockingham) Vt, of SOLON PERRY and others, was destroyed by fire on Sunday morning last. Late on Saturday evening, the bell rope was found to be cut and large quantities of waste placed in suspicious positions. Instead, however, of setting a vigilant watch, it is stated that it was believed that no further attempt would be made under the circumstances that night.—About one o'clock in the morning, however, it was discovered enveloped in flames. The proprietors estimate their loss at $25,000, which includes $10,000 in stock. They have insurance to the amount of $26,000, of which $16,000 was in the Hartford Companies and $10,000 in New Haven and other companies.

ON Friday night last, the store of C. J. PETTIBONE, was entered by burglars, and goods to the amount of three or four hundred dollars taken therefrom, consisting of silk goods principally. Two strangers, names unknown, who had been stopping in town for four or five days, are undoubtedly the ones who committed the robbery. Two hundred dollars are offered for their apprehension and recovery of the goods.

THE editor of the Albany, (Wis.,) Times, found on his return from the Chicago Convention, an appropriate flag floating from his window—a gift of the Republicans. He worked long and faithfully, and they re-paid him with stripes.

From the Baltimore Patriot, Saturday.

The scenes that have been enacted in our midst since Monday last—the daily scuffles and nightly brawls—the quarrels, dissensions and fights—the drunkenness, gambling, profanity and other disreputable conduct, which has been visible for the past week—must, we think, lead all men to rejoice that the end is near.

The peace of the city has been disturbed only by those non-residents, who were sent here to produce harmony and peace. Men occupying high positions, members of Congress, have been arrested for open breaches of the peace and public decorum. Street fights have occurred almost every day. Pistols have been exhibited, dirk-knives used, and in and around the drinking shops and gambling rooms, excited knots of men, "clubs" have gathered in angry discussion, which has generally led to a knock-down, and drag out by the police.

Citizens throughout the country do not see, but the citizens of Baltimore have seen to their hearts' content, or, perhaps it would be better to say, to the stomach's disgust, the kind of men, who, through the machinery of Conventions, have ruled the fortunes of this Republic.

It may be supposed, and on very good grounds, that we contemplate the near prospect of the dissolution and dispersion of such a Convention and such a party with feelings of pleasure. We really think that no greater fortune could befal the country than the final disruption and scattering of the Democratic Conspiracy.

Desperate and Fatal Affray Among Editors.

Correspondence of the Baltimore Sun.

LYNCHBURG, Va., June 24.

Yesterday, about 2 P. M., our community was at once thrown into a state of intense excitement, occasioned by a rencontre between G. W. Hardwicke and W. H. Hardwicke, of the Republican newspaper, and C. W. Button, Joseph Button, Robert Button and George Button, of the Virginian. The proprietors of those two papers have not been on very good terms for a long time, and the present difficulty, which resulted in the death of Joseph Button, (who died about 7 P. M. yesterday, and it is feared the mortal wounding of Robert Button, as no hopes of his recovery are entertained this morning, grew out of an article which appeared in the editorial columns of the Virginian, on Wednesday last, derogatory to and charging R. H. Glas, political editor of the Republican and postmaster in this city, with dereliction of duty, Mr. G. at the time being absent at the Baltimore Convention. On Thursday morning a paragraph appeared in the Republican denouncing C. W. Button, proprietor of the Virginian, as a coward, &c. This brought "a card" from Jos. Button, local editor of the Virginian, charging G. H. Hardwicke with cowardice, reflecting on him as being the son of a vagrant, whose father, now dead, was sold in the streets of Lynchburg for fifty cents.

The next morning another card appeared in the Virginian, in which Joseph Button expressed regret for having invaded the sanctuary of the dead, but reiterating, or rather affirming, that he had no retraction to make in relation to what he had stated about G. W. Hardwicke. The parties met, as above stated, when some fifteen or twenty shots were exchanged, with the result as given.—The Hardwickes escaped uninjured. Joseph Button was shot in the abdominal regions, the ball passing entirely through the body. Robert Button was shot in the side, the ball lodging in the spinal region.

Five-shooters were the weapons used, the parties at the time of the encounter being about twenty paces apart. The Hardwickes have been committed, after a partial examination, which was continued to await the result of the injury. The unfortunate affair is the occasion of sincere regret.

The offices of both newspapers have been closed for the present. Lex.

ARREST OF ROBBERS.—Last Friday night, or rather Saturday morning early, the house of Mr. Wm. H. Smith, in Somers, Kenosha county, was entered and robbed of a quantity of plate, besides other property of considerable value. Before the thieves got away, Mr. Smith was aroused, and without any particular noise let them depart, then saddled one of his horses and rode after them. He soon overtook them in a light lumber wagon drawn by a single horse. He held some conversation with them, and discovered one was a woman. Turning back, he soon gave the alarm, which spread until two hundred men were on the chase. Taking the alarm, the thieves took to the woods.—During the search that ensued, a regular camping ground was discovered.

For some time the search was fruitless.—Shortly after daylight, however, a woman was seen walking toward Racine, who, upon being questioned, gave very evasive answers that led to her arrest. She proved to be the wife of one of the suspected parties named Yates, of established bad character. During the day, an officer from Kenosha demanded her upon a warrant, and she was therefor given up by our authorities.—Later in the day, the horse and wagon seen by Mr. Smith in the possession of the thieves who had robbed his house, was found in the woods and taken possession of; a pail found in it, was recognized by Mr. Goodrich, of Raymond, as the one stolen from their district school house upon the night his house was broken open. Saturday afternoon came, and yet the men had not been arrested; about this time Henry Wright, a son of T. W. Wright, saw a man crossing over one of their fields towards the lake, suddenly fall to the ground; thinking he might be sick, he gave the alarm, but on approaching him, he ran toward the lake, and jumping over the bank went rolling down about thirty feet below. He ran so close to Dr. Park's place, when finding escape impossible, and the officers ready to receive him, he threw a revolver into the Lake and allowed himself to be captured. He was soon recognized as the man David Yates, the husband of the woman previously arrested. The search was continued for the remaining rogue, but without succes, and 'tis feared he has made good his escape.

At some place not very far distant from Racine, there must be a quantity of their plunder secreted. The amount of property stolen is considerable, scarcely any of which has been regained. There is no doubt but these same parties have been implicated in the burglaries committed all winter, and also in horse stealing.

We trust developments may be made that will lead to a full expose of the scoundrels' doings.—Racine Advocate.

THE discussion on the Savoy and Nice Bill was marked by a curious incident in the sitting of the 28th ult., of the Sardinian Chamber of Deputies. The Abbe Anelli rose to read a speech which contained expressions of such virulent hatred to France and the framers of the treaty, that loud murmurs broke out from every part of the Chamber. As the business before the House was thus uselessly interupted, the President having called the Abbe to order several times, at length consulted the House on the question as to whether he should be allowed to continue or not. The Chamber, by an overwhelming majority, replied in the negative, and the Abbe was obliged to sit down again. This is the first time a member has been silenced by a vote of the Chamber.

FOR BRECKINRIDGE.—A special Wa sh ington despatch to the Cincinnati Gazette says:

The Richmond Enquirer hoists the names of Breckinridge and Lane. This example will be followed by most of the Virginia papers. The nomination of Breckinridge took the Douglas men by surprise, and it is the occasion of bitter lamentations and objurgations. Dickinson, of New York, supports the Seceders. In a letter to a friend he declares that he will vote that ticket if he is the only man in New York to do so.

ROBBERY AT LA POINTE.—For the first time we are called upon to report a robbery in our midst. The Rt. Rev. Bishop Barrago discovered on Monday last the loss of some one hundred and twenty dollars in money with some other valuables, which had been abstracted from his carpet bag. The theft was traced to a Half-Breed, who, upon being arrested, confessed the crime. But fifteen dollars of the above amount was recovered. He is now in jail, waiting for a term of Court, when he will, no doubt, be made to do the State some service.—Bayfield Press.

Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

LANCASTER, Pa., June 27—3 P. M.

The Supreme Court of Pennsylvania met to-day. In answer to a writ of attachment for contempt on the part of the authorities of Alleghany County, the Sheriff produced thirteen members of the Pittsburgh Council, who refused to vote on the levy tax to pay the interest on the Charter Valley R. R. bonds. The Court appointed Judges Smyser, of Montgomery, and Long, of Lancaster, Commissioners, to hear the answers of the Councilmen, if desirous to purge themselves of contempt. The decision will probably be rendered this afternoon.

EXPLOSION OF THE PROPELLER KENOSHA.

SEVEN LIVES LOST.

The steam propeller Kenosha, Capt. LACY, bound for Chicago, exploded her boiler Tuesday morning, at 10 o'clock, while backing out from the pier at Sheboygan. The clerk, CURTIS C. BENTON, of Cleveland, and one of the firemen, MICHAEL HINES, of Buffalo, were instantly killed. The first engineer, ROBERT SHEPARD, Miss M. SHARP, chambermaid, and three deck hands, were fatally injured, and died the next morning. The second mate, ROBERT CROCKER, and one fireman, were badly injured, but it is thought may recover. Only one passenger, out of nine, was injured, and he but slightly.

The crew consisted of twenty-two hands.

The Kenosha was towed into this port on Tuesday night, by the steamer Huron, and was yesterday taken to the dry docks to undergo repairs.

The cause of the explosion was superheated steam in the boiler. The steampipe did not explode at all, (as stated by the Wisconsin)

The accumulation of super-heated steam burst through the the furnace top, on the opening of the throttle valve, and the re-action of the escaping torrent threw the boiler, (which is a verticle one, of the shape known as the 'bee hive,') out of its place and against the steam pipe.

The clerk was in the office at the time of his death. The office and the adjoining part of the boat was completely torn to pieces; and, what seems almost incredible, the displacing of the boiler did not even start a plank in her hold, and she came to Milwaukee without taking in a drop of water.

We may as well state here that the assertion in last evening's Wisconsin, that the accident resulted entirely from carelessness, is the assertion of some person who is totally ignorant of the circumstances.

The real cause of the accident was, as we have stated, the steam becoming superheated by means of the iron stay bars which support the top of the furnace. These bars were covered with a coating of lime sediment, which renders them essentially non-conductors in the water, but obviously conductors of the heat from the top of the furnace or crown plate to the steam above.

The first motion communicates to the water by the opening of the throttle-valve—under the pressure of this super-heated steam converted it into steam instantaneously, with the fatal result we have seen.

The Propeller was owned entirely, by Captain LACY, and Mr. BENTON, the clerk; and was making regular trips on the Collingwood line.

PAY THE BRIDGE TENDERS.—The efficient gentlemen who presides over the various city bridges are not supposed to be in want of money. They, no doubt, say to their friends: "We forego all necessary motives, our employment is, in itself, remunerative enough—all we ask is that the Common Council will, inside of a year, decide for the people's sake, how much they will force upon us.

And the Common Council tinkers away at the amount—theorizes over the sum total, and declines to arrive at any definite conclusion as to whether it will do anything or not.

Mr. O'Brien claims five dollars per month more for the tender of Walker's Point Bridge, than the other honorable gentlemen think is justly earned by "elbow grease," and so the remaining tenders don't get anything.

Mr. ROSEBECK claimed that they are paid all they earn, (this is a direct insult to the industry of the gentlemen) he says they should not be paid for discussing politics all day.

Very good. Why don't the Council so decide then. We don't claim, and the men themselves will not claim that the Council shall increase pay, but we do claim that some conclusion should be arrived at, as to whether they shall get anything.

A BALLOON RACE.—Prof. WILSON, who made an ascension at Centralia about eight-een months since, and in whose balloon the accident occurred to the two children about the same time, proposes making another trial from Chicago on the ensuing Fourth of July. Prof. WILSON has made over two hundred ascensions in Mexico, California and other countries, and designs taking an aerial voyage across the Atlantic soon. Prof. STEINER, we learn, is to start on the same day, at the same hour, with Prof. WOOD from this city, and a race between the two air ships will take place. Should the day be pleasant, this balloon race will be a great feature in the celebration.

GUTTENBERG FESTIVAL.—A festival in commemoration of the memory of JOHN GUTTENBERG, was held on the evening of the 23d, at BIENFIELD'S Hall. An excellent supper was served up, and speeches were made by a number of distinguished German citizens.

JOHN GUTTENBERG invented cut metal types and used them in printing the earliest editions of the Bible, which was commenced in 1444 and finished in 1460.

THE summer concerts of the Musical Society, which will be held at LOCKWOOD'S Park, on the Lake shore, will be the most popular undertaking of the season, provided they are not held on Sunday.

TOO BAD.—Some boys were arrested last night, for bathing in the lake, between the North Point and Division street, and we presume, will be fined. We think the most sensible thing would be, to arrest those who do not take a bath occasionally. Before that could be done, however, a large addition to the Station House would be necessary.—Free Democrat.

The citizens who live along the Lake Shore complain loudly of the violation of the City Ordinance, in regard to bathing in the City limits. We are glad our worthy Chief of Police has taken the matter in hand. If boys must bathe in daylight, let them either go outside of the City limits, or secure tubs.

WIDE-AWAKES AHOY!—The Republican Young Men of our city meet at the Head-Quarters, in the Albany, to-morrow evening to organize a WIDE-AWAKE Club for the campaign. Let there be a good turn-out.

THE PIC-NIC EXCURSION yesterday to North Prairie was a mammoth affair. The excursionits returned last evening with a highly colored account of their day's sport.

RUNAWAY.—A horse attached to a buggy, became frightened yesterday, and ran down Jefferson street, to Michigan. There was a lady and child in the vehicle, and though it was upset on turning the corner of Michigan street, fortunately neither was injured. We could not learn her name.

FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION.—The Committee of Arrangements for the Fourth meet at Mr. DAGGETT'S office, Martin's block, at 8 o'clock this (Thursday) evening. Punctual attendance is requested, as the final arrangements are to be made.

VISIT TO MILWAUKEE.—On Friday last the High School and Preparatory School visited the Seventh Ward School of Milwaukee. Starting at 7 o'clock they arrived at Milwaukee at about 8:30 a. m. After stopping for half an hour at the Newhall House, they went to the school house, where they were welcomed by Mr. McKindley, the Principal of the High School.

The forenoon was spent in witnessing the usual exercises and in listening to the recitations. Among these were recitations in Algebra, Natural Philosophy, Greek, English Grammar, and Arithmetic. The recitations in Algebra were particularly good. All the exercises were highly creditable. Mr. McKindley is well known as a gentleman of rare educational talent, and his school shows the work of a master mind. Miss Whipple, Preceptress, is a successful and devoted teacher, and her classes, by their promptness and attainments showed not only good instruction but good drilling. Miss Everttts, First Assistant, is also a teacher of fine attainments. The recitation in analysis of language reflected credit upon her, and indicated a mind of discriminating power.

After an intermission of twenty minutes, recitations were resumed. A class in Spherical Trigonometry, taught by the Principal, did well. Indeed all Mr. McKindley's classes showed that they had learned to work, in short that they were in the best sense of the term, educated. After one o'clock, an hour was spent in Rhetorical exercises. The compositions were well written and, (what is very rare) well read. The thoughts were not common place, nor was the diction. The declamations were well delivered. In some cases the style of speaking was superior.—There was sometimes a genuine flash of feeling, that is as rare in schools as it is commendable. The young men who spoke, without exception, reflected real credit upon school as well as upon themselves.

At 2 o'clock, the session being closed, the scholars from Racine returned to the Newhall House, and after rest and refreshment, those who chose, returned on the early train, while those who remained returned in the evening.

The excursion was both pleasant and profitable. The thanks of the citizens of Racine are due to the proprietors of the Newhall House, who gave the use of their parlors, free of charge, to the teachers and scholars; and who by their kindness and courtesy contributed to make the time pass pleasantly. They will be kindly remembered in time to come, by those whom they will, perhaps, forget.

Nothing occurred, so far as we have learned, to mar the enjoyment, and we trust that both teachers and scholars will strive to emulate the good order, the promptness, the attainments and the thoroughness of the "Seventh Ward High School."—Racine Adv.

THE LIGHT GUARD AT DELAVAN.—The Walworth County Journal, published at Delavan, contains the following communication in its issue of yesterday:

MR. EDITOR:—I see from your last issue that you have secured the services of the Milwaukee Light Guards. The people of Delavan may well be proud of their success, for the Light Guards are the pride of this State. On their tour last Summer, they were received with great enthusiasm at every place they passed. New Yorkers looked on them with astonishment; as one of them remarked to me—"If that company were an index of the manner that Western men carried out what they aimed at, namely, perfection, then he had always had a wrong impression of them." Under Captain Starkweather, they will always succeed. Give them a warm reception. Come out one and all, and show the Light Guards of Milwaukee that Delavan, like other places, feel proud of them; so that when they return home they will remember with feelings of gratitude, the kind reception they received at this place on the 4th of July, 1860.

The Dissolution of the Democratic Party.

The Democratic Party, for so many years the most powerful political organization that our country has ever seen, came to an inglorious end at Baltimore, last week. It was wounded unto death in the house of its friends; the Slavery question being the immediate cause of the quarrel which precipitated the disaster. From the remains of the old organization two new and rival parties have arisen; each claiming to be the true heir to the name and fortunes of the defunct Democracy, but neither able to prove title. One of these factions, with Mr. DOUGLAS for its candidate, raises the standard of "Squatter Sovereignty;" appealing to the North to sustain this principle, because it is favorable to Freedom; and calling upon the South to uphold it, because it permits the extension of Slavery. The opposing faction, under the lead of Mr. BRECKINRIDGE, now Vice President of the U. S., pursues the bolder course of openly claiming that the Constitution legalizes and protects Slavery in every part of the Territories of the Republic and demands Congressional legislation to carry out and enforce the Pro Slavery decrees of the Federal Courts. For Mr. BRECKINRIDGE standing upon this platform, there is no hope at the North. For Mr. DOUGLAS advocating "Squatter Sovereignty," there is none at the South. Both will share a common defeat, and with their overthrow will perish the last vestige of the once all-powerful Democratic Party.

The Feeling in the Republican Ranks.

Some of the Democratic papers affect to discover a great lack of enthusiasm among the Republicans. To one of these objectors, the Boston Post, the Albany Evening Journal thus replies:

"We do not know what the Post means by "enthusiasm." If it means that there is not entire unanimity and harmony in the Republican ranks, it doesn't tell the truth. If it means that the work of organization is not going forward more generally and more systematically than ever before at so early a stage in the canvass, it is equally in error.—Or if it means to insinuate that the friends of other candidates than those put in nomination, are in any way indifferent to the result of the contest, it will wake up, in due season, to find itself entirely at fault. But if it means merely, that there is not as much excitement now—four months before voting day—as there sometimes is in the last month of a Presidential campaign, it is right. And, for one, we should be sorry were there any such premature excitement. The present is the time for organization and discipline—for arranging the working forces—for getting settled in the harness—and for mapping out the field of battle. All these things are being done as zealously and as promptly as the most enthusiastic Republican could desire. When the proper time comes for demonstrative "enthusiasm," there will be enough of it, and a great deal too much for the Post's comfort.

The most successful campaigns are short and stirring ones. It is never wise to exhaust an army by forced marches and high excitement a great while before the time for fighting."

Delusive Hopes.

The DOUGLAS organs are making desperate efforts to rally the sinking spirits of their followers and encourage them to keep up at least the show of fight. The leaders, of course, understand and freely admit that the case is hopeless, but this truth they strive to keep from "the rank and file." Thus the News of yesterday copies and leads an article from the Chicago Times, which contains the following idle boast:

> We say to our friends, have no apprehensions regarding the South. Douglas and Fitzpatrick will beat the Administration in every Southern State, except, possibly, South Carolina. In that State the people do not vote for President. Douglas will have from 100 to 112 Southern electoral votes. In less than six weeks there will be no opposing candidate at the South.

This is a ridiculous vaunt. As matters now stand, it is really doubtful whether Mr. DOUGLAS will obtain a single Southern electoral vote. Mr. BRECKINRIDGE is very popular throughout the Slave States, and the circumstances of the nomination appeal to their prejudices, as well as to their interests. The prediction that "in less than six weeks" he will withdraw from the field, is effectually answered by his prompt acceptance of the nomination, and the response which comes up from all parts of the South. But though Mr. DOUGLAS may not carry a Southern State, he has strength enough, no doubt, to defeat Mr. BRECKINRIDGE in several of them, where the Opposition, though not able to cope with the united Democracy, can beat them, now that they are hopelessly divided. This, we think, will be the case in Tennessee, Maryland, Louisiana, North Carolina, and very possibly in Georgia and Virginia. Mr. BRECKINRIDGE, of course, will return the favor, in those few Northern States where the DOUGLAS men have any hopes of success. Indeed, the field between the rival houses of the Democracy promises to become a regular Kilkinny cat fight, and end in the signal overthrow and destruction of both. This is the less to be regretted, as the party, from long enjoyment of power, have become utterly corrupt, defiant of the will of the people, and heedless of the interests of the Republic.

LINCOLN IN INDIANA.—The St. Louis Democrat publishes an extract from a letter, written by a well informed and prominent politician, residing in Davies county, Ind., which says: "You ask how LINCOLN will run here. I think he will carry everything by storm in this State; at least, so far as I can ascertain, he is the man. A great many like BELL and EVERETT, but they say, as there is no chance for them, they will support LINCOLN and HAMLIN."

THE philosopher FRAZER says that "though a man without money is poor, a man without nothing but money is still poorer."

The Two Liberators—Garibaldi and Lincoln.

The Albany Evening Journal closes a searching review of the proceedings at Baltimore in the following eloquent and imposing terms:

"The Democracy of the North has for thirty years found its advantage in concessions to the South. Its ascendency has been maintained upon such terms as Slavery chose to dictate. These terms—always hard ones—have been growing more and more severe, oppressive and humiliating, at every renewal of the political lease. Democrats have, in the mean time, as the burthen became too enormous, kept dropping off, first individually, then in couples, then by sections, in districts, counties, and by States, until, North of Mason & Dixon's line, little more than a Democratic organization was preserved. And finally, that "Irrepressible Conflict" between Slavery and Freedom—the existence of which Northern Democracy so stubbornly denied—has forced the North, driven to the wall, to turn and stand!

TOOMBS, STEVENS, CLINGMAN and their Southern associates, with the aid of Northern "Dough Faces," destroyed the Whig Party and threatened a dissolution of the Union, to prevent California from coming, as a Free State, into the Union. SLIDELL, DAVIS, BAYARD, MASON, and their confederates, divide and demoralize the Democratic Party, and threaten disunion, to keep Kansas, as a Free State out of the Union.

There is a parallel for this tyranny, madness and impotence. It exists in Naples, and is found in the delusions of the Bombas, Father and Son. The Star of Freedom is rising in the Eastern and Western firmament. The People of two nations will find repose and prosperity under the auspices of GARIBALDI and LINCOLN."

THE NATIONAL DEMOCRACY.—The News tries to make light of the BRECKINRIDGE movement in Wisconsin. In its issue of yesterday it says:

"The nomination of Breckinridge and Lane excited only feelings of disgust, and if there were any rejoicings, they must have been in some obscure corner, beyond the light of day. We have yet to see a democrat who sympathizes with that ticket. We know there are none such in Milwaukee, and don't believe the ticket will get one hundred votes in the State."

A good BRECKINRIDGE man informed us yesterday that their muster roll in this city already foots up two hundred, and that a BRECKINRIDGE paper is to be started here immediately. We hear that Gen. ELLIS, late of the Pioery, and Mr. SWINEFORD, of the La Crosse Union and Democrat, will have charge of it.

AMERICAN PREFERENCES.—More American ladies have married English noblemen than is generally supposed. The most remarkable instance was that of the three daughters of RICHARD CATON, Esq., of Baltimore, granddaughters of CHARLES CARROLL, of Carrollton, who were sent to England to be educated, and each of whom "knocked down her peer." They married the Marquis WELLESLEY, Lord STAFFORD, and the Duke of Leeds. The Duchess Dowager of Leeds is the only survivor of the sisters, and their husbands are also dead. Besides these, the first Lord ASHBURTON married the daughter of the Hon. WILLIAM BINGHAM of Philadelphia, by whom he left a large family. The eldest WILLIAM BINGHAM BARING, the present Lord Ashburton, has held high office, and is very influential, as well from his abilities as from his great wealth. The second Lord Erskine (the son of the Chancellor) married the daughter of General CADWALADER of Philadelphia, where the present peer was born, and named in honor of the country of his birth, THOMAS AMERICUS ERSKINE.

A HOMESTEAD VETO!—That hated and despised old reprobate, who, in an evil hour, was chosen by a People whom he has severely scourged, has Vetoed the Homestead Bill! Ready and eager to put money into the pockets of his political followers, with his consent, there shall be no homes for the homeless—no land for the landless. And this is called—or mis-called—Democracy!—These Vetoes come from the ingrate for whom the Poor voted; who was elected under the "false pretense" of being the "Poor Man's Friend!"—Albany Evening Journal.

NO TARIFF! NO HOMESTEAD! Old Abe, in his rail-splitting days, was noted for the terrific blows he gave with his beetle. They were but love-taps, however, compared with those which Democracy will receive from the People in November. Pennsylvania and the North-West will strike back terribly.—Ibid.

Railway Connection with the North.

MENASHA, June 23, 1860.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—I see the Press of Milwaukee, if not her citizens, are waking up to the importance of an immediate Railway communication between your city and the manufacturing and lumbering facilities of the upper and lower Fox river. Most of our merchants—not from choice, but from necessity—deal with Chicago, instead of Milwaukee merchants. A direct Railway communication with the former city, and their anxiety to grasp from Milwaukee the trade which naturally belongs to her, enable our merchants to get their freights at less rates and in much less time by the North-Western R. R., than from Milwaukee. There is another fact, with which, perhaps, your business men are not familiar. The Green Bay and Madison R R. Co. is well organized, with ample means raised and on hand to construct a road from Green Bay to Lake Winnebago, and they are waiting only to connect with some road leading south, at or near this point. There is no reasonable doubt but they will connect with the Ripon R. R. at this point, if constructed before the North-Western road is completed to Appleton. In one event, Chicago, in the other Milwaukee, would secure the immense trade of the lumbering districts of Oconto, Marinette and other points on the Bay Shore, and eventually the mining business of Marquette, on Lake Superior. This connection must be of immense importance to that road and that city which secures it, and should not be overlooked by Milwaukee and her railroad companies. Our citizens are anxious for a direct communication with Milwaukee, and are prepared with the necessary means to meet the Ripon project at Winneconne. And from the repeated declarations of the officers and members of the Green Bay Co., should the Ripon and Wolf River R. R. be completed to Menasha before the Chicago road is extended to Appleton, we believe the whistle of the first locomotive that crosses the river at Winneconne, will be able the same day to awake the citizens of the ancient city from their century slumber.

Respectfully,
MENASHA.

A COMET SEEN—SUPPOSED THE CHARLES V. COMET.—Capt. WATSON, of the Charleston steamer Potomac, on Friday night, when about twenty miles north of Cape Henlopen, saw a large comet about twelve degrees above the horizon. It was very distinct, and is supposed to be the expected CHARLES V. comet.

Mr. BOND, of the Cambridge Observatory, has also given notice of a new comet in the North-Western quarter of the Heavens, which may be the same one seen by Captain WATSON. A few days will decide whether it is, as supposed, the celebrated comet of CHARLES the Fifth.

PRODIGALS are born of misers, and butterflies are born of grubs.

We clip the following from the correspondence of a traveler, in the Journal of Commerce, who spent a few days in this city.—After reviewing the financial storm of 1857, and the failure of the crops in 1858, the writer proceeds to remark as follows:

So far from being discouraged, the people are taking advantage of the cheapness of building material, for labor and real estate, to erect fine buildings; rents are within the reach of men of moderate means; the necessaries of the table are down to a moderate scale, and all things seem settling down upon a more sure and solid basis. The great wheat crop of 1859, has given a new impetus to business. The receipts of that harvest already reach near seven millions of bushels. For the first time, this city surpasses Chicago in the receipts of this article, and Milwaukee now stands as the greatest inland wheat market in the world. The future promises well. The farmers of Iowa and Minnesota have been busy, and the crops there and in this State are said to look luxuriant beyond all precedent.

The La Crosse Railroad, the Horicon road, the Fond du Lac road, the Milwaukee and Mississippi road, will this fall pour into this city a beautiful tribute from new and fertile regions; and if no failure occurs in the harvest, the North West will again be prosperous, and the trials of the past be soon almost forgotten. Not only will these Lake Cities be favorably affected, but New York will find her customers from the North West (who have been forced to economize and refrain from buying for three years) again in her market buying the more freely for their long obstinence.

The railroads in this region will have largely increased receipts to their treasuries, from the increasing receipts of produce, and the consequent increased quantity of goods that will pass from the Eastward to supply the wants of the North West which was never before so bare of goods.

While the future is thus full of promise of temporal good, the past has taught valuable lessons.

The Board of Trade have a room handsomely fitted up for Change purposes, and the regulations of the floor are worthy of notice. In front of the President's desk stands a box, containing the standard of No. 1 wheat; another box contains No 2 wheat; there is also a miniature bushel attached to a graduated scale. This little measure, when filled and weighed in the miniature scale, shows how much per bushel wheat will weigh. These standards of weight and measure are always at hand to be appealed to in case of disagreement between buyer and seller, which are thus promptly adjusted, and protracted controversies avoided.

In case of dishonorable conduct by any member of the Board of Trade, the matter is carefully examined into, and if proved he is guilty he is expelled from 'Change. Thus a high standard of honorable dealing is maintained, and in this and many other respects the New York Corn Exchange may profitably copy after these Western Exchanges—since she will not lead.

Wheat is heading out in Wisconsin, and harvest may commence about the 15th of July—a remarkably early day. N. Y.

Blondin at Niagara Again—His Second Great Performance.

From the Brigade Courier, June 21st.

A much larger number of persons were present yesterday, than at Blondin's first aerial excursion. At four o'clock, the rope-walker, dressed in tights, with a crimson-colored velvet doublet, started on his trip.—When he had traveled about a quarter of the length of the rope, he stopped and stood on his head, which feat he repeated in the centre of the rope, and on the last quarter of the rope he again assumed this inverted position, and an artist took a photograph of him.—He then proceeded to the Canada shore, where his coach awaited him. In the private box were assembled several acquaintances and Madame Blondin, who witnessed her husband's crossing for the first time. The statement that she was present before is erroneous.

After resting a short time, Blondin again made his appearance, and after walking a short distance, again stood on his head, with his face toward Mr. Evans' camera.

He then returned, was blindfolded with a handkerchief, and with the exception of his arms, completely covered with a sack. He then proceeded to the American side. During his passage he stopped four times, and stood on his head once, the sack to the contrary notwithstanding. He reached the American shore safely, and was greeted with the plaudits of the throng. His performance, in some respects, was more daring than any of his previous feats.

On the 4th of July Blondin advertises to appear as Jocko, with slack-rope performances in the centre of his narrow bridge. In the evening he will start from the American side loaded with fire-works of every description, and, completely surrounded with brilliant-colored fires, will return from the Canada side with a beautiful display of fire-works attached to the wheelbarrow.

Husbands and Wives.

How many husbands and wives are there who allow little disagreements and estrangements to eat away at the root of their first love, until fondness ceases, and they only endure each other. How many whose lives are saddened, if not possitively embittered, by supposed, incompatibility of temper, or want of affinity. And yet in these cases nothing is needed but mutual concession and forbearance, a loving blindness to faults and failings, or a gentle correction of them, to restore the original harmony and kindle up again the decaying embers of affection. Men and women expect too much when they think that they shall dwell forever under the roseate and smiling skies of courtship and the honeymoon. Husbands and wives are human, just as men and women are, and that they have their trials of temper and lapses of amiability no more proves that they have made a mistake in their pairing, than the same faults and weaknesses in other relations of life prove that they were not made for society, but should cage ourselves in cloisters, like the old religious fools of the dark ages, in order that we may be calm and holy. The Professor in the last Atlantic, furnishes a paragraph pat to our theme:

"The idea that in this world each young person is to wait until he or she finds that precise counterpart who alone of all creation was meant for him or her, and then fall instantly in love with it is pretty enough, only it is not Nature's way. It is not all essential that all pairs of human being, should be, as we sometimes say of particular couples, "born for each other." Sometimes a man or woman is made a great deal better and happier in the end for having had to conquer the faults of the one beloved, and make the fitness not found at first, by assimilation.—There is a class of good women who have no right to marry perfectly good men, because they have the power of saving those who would go to ruin but for the guiding providence of a good wife. I have known many such cases. It is the most momentous question a woman is ever called upon to decide, whether the faults of the man she loves are beyond remedy and will drag her down, or whether she is competent to be his earthly redeemer and lift him to her own level."

Husbands and wives have it in their power to aggravate little differences and fix them into chronic aversion, and then into settled enmity. In very rare cases indeed, will the spirit of murder result in the actual crime, but it is death to all domestic peace and happiness. The best and most fitly matched man and woman that ever went through this world together, have found occasions for mutual forgiveness, and that under domestic charity that suffereth long and is still kind. It is still kind. It is not so often any special incompatibility of temper, as this lack of self-control and forbearance, that embitters married life. Very few indeed, we believe, are the alliances that are so inherently discordant as not to admit of a process of gradual assimulation, in the course of which the best traits of character in both will be developed and strengthened. And are not those the noblest and sweetest harmonies of music and of life that evolve themselves from partial discords?—Springfield Republican.

It is in full view of the Lake and on high ground, which overlooks the city, and a more healthy situation cannot be found. Its location for business men is very desirable, the Horse Railroad passing through it every fifteen or twenty minutes. Much more could be said about this valuable property, but we will only say, any persons who have any desire to purchase any of said Lots, if they will call at my office they can see a map, and I will go with them and show them the Lots, and they can judge for themselves. The terms on which said Lots will be sold are as follows: Ten per cent in two months; 15 per cent in two years; and 25 per cent every year thereafter until the amount is paid, with interest at the rate of 7 per cent per annum, interest not to commence until six months after the date of purchase. Here is a chance never before offered, and there is every reason to believe that this property will advance 100 per cent in less than twelve months. The great advantage of the Horse Railroad must, and will make it very desirable. The Lots are free from all encumbrances whatever. Certificate of title will be furnished to any one who may purchase.

TROTTING ALL ALONE.

I went trouting, I went trouting,
And the morning sun asiant
Threw its amber glances shyly
Where the lofty pines did chant;
And the nooks held witching shadows
On their dewy dusk of stone,
And because my heart asked nothing,
I went trouting all alone.

O, I angled where the water
Swept the pebbles clear and slow,
And the sky reflected deeply
Where the silver eddies flow,
And my heart kept asking softly
Why I trouted all alone.

Then there came a brown-haired phantom—
And her eyes were like to mine!
Looking up with dimpled smiling
Where but now the ripples gleamed
So I smiled to see it smiling,
But the phantom face had flown,
And a maiden stood beside me
Who'd gone trouting all alone.

Then the morning hurried swiftly,
And the noon stood in the sky,
But a trout had neither captured,
Though I couldn't tell you why;
And there came a promise softly,
Ere the evening's crimson shone,
That whenever we went trouting,
We'd go trouting all alone.

Unfavorable Harvest News from Europe.

From the N. Y. Journal of Commerce, June 29.

The advices received by the Asia in regard to the present condition of the cereal crops in Europe, are of unusual interest.—Not only is the season backward in Great Britain, and in many parts of the Continent, but fears are now entertained that the yield, especially of wheat, will be deficient in quantity beyond all that has been anticipated.—We can hardly understand, in this country, the difference between an early and late harvest in England, as in the United States, whether the Spring be forward or not, the wheat ripens in any given locality at about the same date of each year. Even if the crop be very backward here on the 1st of June, the hot suns of this month are sure to make compensation for the former slow progress, and at the usual date, or within a few days of it at the most, the grain is ready for the sickle.

The harvest period for wheat in the United States, varies with the latitude from the middle of June to the latter part of July, seldom extending far into August, but is rarely a week behind the average date in the least prosperous season. In England there is four or five weeks difference in the same field, between an early and a late harvest; and the average date of maturity, owing to the absence of our clear skies and intense sunshine, is nearly one month later than in the latitude of New York, August being the month in which most of the English wheat is cut. In the most favored districts of England an early season will ripen the grain for sickle by the third week in July, while a late season will protract the harvesting to the close of August. Indeed, it is not an uncommon occurrence in a very unpropitious season, for the patridge-shooting, which is fixed to open on the 1st of September, to be postponed a week to give the farmers an opportunity to reap the fields of grain still standing to ripen. In the North of England the oat crops are not unfrequently standing amid the early October snows!

With this difference in view, the portents of a backward season have a meaning to us not otherwise readily understood. We have noticed in our former articles the want which was felt the current year of early pastures for cattle in Great Britain, and especially in Ireland, where, throughout whole counties, not a single blade of green grass appeared during the last spring within three weeks of the usual date. The advices by the Asia show that the cereal crops are greatly retarded by rains and cold, wet weather. A private letter from a friend, under date of Hooley, Surrey county, June 7, states that "since I last wrote, the weather has been the same, more like March and April than June; we have nothing but rain and storms of wind, and the roads are covered with mud and pools of water." Another letter, also received by the Asia, from a friend 200 miles distant from the foregoing, viz: Skipton, in Yorkshire, states: "We have had too much rain for the growing grain, and the markets are all advancing; hay is also fully ten days later than usual." The same difficulty, although not to an equal extent, has been felt upon the Continent; and from various parts of France there come fresh complaints of damage and detention to the growing crop.

In digesting these accounts, it will be well to notice several points by way of caution.—And first, the promise of a late crop is not always kept. A few days of hot sunshine will hasten the maturity of the grain as if by magic. We have known a farmer in England as late as the first of July to arrange his work with a view to harvest not before the middle of August, and after two weeks of good weather to see his reapers in the field by the middle of the same month, thus anticipating his calculations at least three weeks. But again, a late crop is not necessarily a short crop. The yield may be very good even when the maturity has been long delayed; and in that case the deficiency is only in the thirty days of consumption while waiting for harvest.

The annual consumption of the United Kingdom is equal to about 120,000,000 bushels wheat, of which, perhaps, an average of one-third must be imported. The imports of 1857, entered for home consumption, were 27,801,892 bushels wheat, and 2,212,168 cwts of flour. In 1858 the imports reached 34,003,580 bushels of wheat and 3,890,168 cwts of flour. About half the flour, and less than one-fifth of the wheat came from the United States. A fair inference from the accounts which have now reached us from the foreign markets would be that the crops will be from two to three weeks later in England than hoped for; and from a week to ten days later than usual in some parts of the Continent; and that there will also be a considerable deficiency from the standard recognized as a full yield. If this is realized, it will give to this country, not an eager export demand at famine prices, but an opportunity to ship off a large portion of our surplus breadstuffs at rates that will repay the cost of production; while the home markets, being relieved of a burden that would otherwise exert a very depressing influence, will be kept in a healthy condition of prices—remunerative to the farmer and not burdensome to the consumer.

THE PHILOSOPHY OF MANNERS.—Manners are the garments of the spirit—the external clothing of the being in which character ultimates itself. If the character be sincere and simple, the manners will be as one with it—will be the natural out-birth of its traits and peculiarities. If it be complex and self-seeking, the manners will become artificial, affected, or insincere. Some persons make up, put on, and take off, alter or patch their manners to suit times and seasons, and with as much facility and as little consciousness of duplicity as if they were treating their clothes in like manner. The fine lady or this class may be polished to the last degree, when arrayed in silks and laces; she glides over the rich carpet of the drawing-room; and yet with her servants at home, she is possibly less the lady than they; or, worse still, the fine lady, married, perhaps, to a fine gentleman of character similar to her own in the privacy of domestic life, carries on a civil war with him, in which all restraint or courtesy is set aside. The best manners possible are the simple bringing down of the perfect law of charity into the most external ultimates of social life. Unless character tends at all times and in all places and towards all persons, to ultimate itself in manners of thorough courtesy, it is not building itself upon a sure foundation. This is the golden rule of true manners.

WHEN COMPLETED, SIX YEARS ago, the St. Nicholas was universally pronounced the most magnificent, convenient, and thoroughly organized establishment of the kind on this continent. What it was then, it remains today—without a rival in sumptuousness, and in the completeness of its comfort and enjoyment. The finest rooms command no higher rates than tables of its three public dining rooms, and nothing that modern art has devised for the convenience and special gratification of the traveling public has been omitted in its planning or neglected in its practical details. The only reputation of the house at home and abroad derived from its splendid, its superb accommodations, and its homelike comforts and luxuries, has been enhanced every year by the unwearied exertions of the proprietors.

SAVE YOUR CARPETS!

THE GREAT ENQUIRY HAS BEEN made for a number of years by housekeepers, What shall we put under our carpets to protect them from wear and moth? This grand, valuable discovery was effected and patented April 1st, 1856, by J. R. LAMB of New York, and called Herrington's Patent Carpet Lining.

This article having proved its utility has now come into general use, so much so that scarcely a carpet will be put down without it, and its cheapness puts it within the reach of every family. It is warranted to add fifty per cent to the wear of carpets. Oil Cloths and Mattings. The details of its merits are too numerous to mention here, but can be obtained at any of the principal Carpet Stores throughout the United States, and is manufactured only by the New York Carpet Lining Company, of which they are manufacturers of Mammoth Cotton Batting, and Comfortables. The best and cheapest that have ever been produced in this country.

TELEGRAPH

Difficulties with Spain.

NEW YORK, June 27—3 P. M.

The Herald's Washington correspondent says:

Intelligence from Madrid states that the Spaniards have become so elated with their success in Morocco, that they design having a fleet at Mexico making the necessity of protecting it unto the Spanish Monarchy as its pivot for their belligerent operations; in short for the belligerent operations; and not only does Spain contemplate a descent upon Mexico, but the United States is smart upon Mexico, but the United States is smart upon Mexico, but the United States is called to account for the capture of the Spanish war steamers off Vera Cruz not long since.

The same correspondence says Mayor Wood has been conferring with Breckinridge, Douglas and the Administration. He suggests that there should be but one electoral ticket in the State of New York, with the members of it pledged to either candidate that receives the vote for either, as may be most popular. His proposition seems to meet with favor from both sides. If, however, these party considerations shall not prevail, and the Democracy does not throw itself into the breach, the probability is that Mayor Wood will go with the popular sentiment of the State which so thanks is in favor of Douglas. His impression is that the Administration will throw their whole power in favor of Breckinridge and Lane.

PHILADELPHIA, June 26.

An immense torchlight procession with music attended the return of Messrs. Covode, Burlingame, Grow and Blair, and a grand entertainment was given them by Henry C. Carey.

The interior of the square was so large that the accommodate from four stands.

There was great enthusiasm when the Chicago delegation reached the houses of the Chicago delegation.

Resolutions were passed, condemning in the strongest terms the Administration and the office-holders, and pledging support to the Free Soil party and national improvement.

A Split Inside the Democracy.

WASHINGTON, June 26.

Reports are being made, without probable foundation, of a split and an arrangement by the leaders of the Democracy in New York whereby but the same electoral ticket for Breckinridge and Lane.

A split of arrangement is to be made in Pennsylvania, if possible. This important and startling movement is evidently based on an agreement that Douglas is to be allowed a chance to secure the election before the people by the union of the factions, thus securing the votes of these two States, on the understanding that if the election goes to the House it is to secure the vote of the Illinois delegation to Breckinridge.

National Democratic Committee.

WASHINGTON, June 26—3 P. M.

The National Democratic Douglas Committee met at Washington to-day for organization and to prepare for the campaign.

August Belmont, of N Y, is chairman, and A Hamond, of Va, Thomas Tottman, of La F O Prince, of Mass, and Hugh J. Jewett, of Ohio are Secretaries.

Resolutions were adopted, recommending to the several State Coms. that they take measures for the adoption of an electoral ticket in their respective States to the unequivocal support of the nominees of the National Democratic Convention (Stephen A. Douglas and H V. Johnson), and also that if any State Com. shall omit to take the proper steps for securing such ticket, then the member of this Com in that State, is thereby authorized to take such action as he may deem necessary and proper for that purpose.

Gov. Pennington, Sam. Houston, &c.

NEW YORK, June 27—3 P. M.

Gov Pennington, Speaker of the House of Representatives, returned home last night and was greeted by thousands of his friends, who turned out to welcome him to his home in Newark.

A meeting of the friends of Sam. Houston is called for to-morrow, July 18th, to nominate an electoral ticket in this State and designate a candidate for Vice President with Houston.

Fanning of the Niagara.

BOSTON, June 27.—3 P. M.

The R M Steamship Niagara sailed this afternoon at 1 o'clock, with 600 passengers for Halifax and 250 for Liverpool. She goes out in charge of Mr. Gooch, first officer, Capt. Miller not having recovered from his late severe illness. Capt. Miller goes out in her.—She has $27,500 in specie.

Wise Endorses Breckinridge.

NORFOLK, Va, June 27.—3 P. M.

The Argus states that Gov. Wise has pronounced the nomination of Breckinridge and Lane as the most admirable that could be made to save the Union. He will address the democracy at a grand ratification meeting to be held here Monday evening.

Arrival from California.

NEW YORK, July 27—3 P. M.

The Northern Light has arrived with the California mails of 9th, and $1,500,000 and 400 passengers.

Congressional Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, June 27—9 P. M.

The Senate, without transacting any business of the least public importance, at ten o'clock went into executive session.

All persons who have in good faith settled and made improvements upon any lands contained in said reservations believing the same to be government lands shall have the right of pre-emption to 160 acres on paying $1.25 per acre, provided that which such settlements has been made on the lands of the Indians on the south side of the Minnesota river the assent of the Indians shall be obtained.

A resolution was adopted to print 10,000 extra copies of the report of Lieut. Ives on the survey of the Colorado river.

On motion of Mr. Gwin a resolution was adopted that a committee of two be appointed to wait upon the President and inform him that unless he may have further communications to make, the Senate were ready to close its sessions by adjournment.

Messrs Simmons and Saulsbury were appointed as the committee.

PRACTICAL OPTICIAN,

RESPECTFULLY ANNOUNCES TO the Public, that he has imported from KATHENAU & HERMANN, and now offers for sale, a large assortment of

of the finest ground flint, which show the clearest and most distinct objects. As these glasses polarize every ray of light, it passes completely through them without any refraction, thereby enabling the eye to do the least possible work without injury, but will preserve and even strengthen the sight, which very often, by improper glasses, is destroyed.

My spectacles are celebrated for the superior adaptation of lenses to the frames, as well as the easy position in which they rest on the nose, for which they received the first premiums at the World's Fairs, both Paris and London, the first premiums, also, at the Crystal Palace, New York, and Medals, for the same, on exhibition. Many years experience and a thorough knowledge of optics, enable me to suit all who may favor me with a call. The price will be what experience requires.

Call and see for yourself.

The foreign news which we published this morning was regarded here as unfavorable, and our wheat market opened at a decline of 8@4c, No. 1 selling to a limited extent at $1,11 in store, and $1,13 on board, and the transactions included one sale of 5,000 bus. f.o.b. July 10th at $1,12. Subsequently, on the receipt of the New York report, the market gained more firmness, closing on 'Change at $1,12 for No. 1 in store, and later in the afternoon there was a sale of 5,000 bus t. o.b. July 10th at $1,16.

Flour was very quiet, buyers not disposed to operate at the prices asked. In other articles there is no change.

CHICAGO MARKET, JUNE 26TH.—Receipts of the articles named, at Chicago, yesterday, were as follows:

Flour, bbls	1,461
Wheat, bus	146,625
Corn, bus	146,961
Oats, bus	8,350

In reference to the market the Press & Tribune says:

The receipts of Corn to-day were 146,967 bus, and the shipments 65,855 bus. Under this heavy supply the market was easier, and we note a decline of ½c below yesterday's quotations. Only about 50,000 bus changed hands at 46½c for fair River yellow in store; 45¾@46c for Canal Mixed afloat; 43½@45½c for No. 1 in store; 47@47½ for No. 2, and 43½@44c for Rejected—the market closing quiet at 43½@43¾c for No. 1. Wheat—The mill firm under a good demand to fill out cargoes; but as soon as these were finished, the market became quiet and easier, and prices declined 1c—sales during the day amounting to 19,000 bus, at $1,09@1,10½ for No. 2 Spring; $1,11 for No. 1 do; and 92c for Rejected—the market closing very dull and nominally lower—No. 2 Spring being offered at $1,06@1,08 without buyers. Oats were steady, with a fair demand and sales at 27@28c in store, principally the outside quotation. Rye quiet—No. 2 selling at 56c in store. Barley dull and nominal. Highwines steady at 18½c for city manufactured. Hides unchanged.

Freights remain firm. Four vessels were engaged to-day at 8c for corn to Buffalo, and 9c for wheat to Kingston.

ST. LOUIS MARKET, JUNE 23D.—(From the Democrat:)

FLOUR—Market very dull in the small way, and we could hear of no transactions in large lots. Sales of 100 bags 3d, Vernon at $4,30.

WHEAT—Receipts small, and the only sales reported were 85 sks club at $1, and 140 sacks do at $1,04.

OUR CASH MARKET is still an important branch in the business of Winona. Although there has been a large falling off in receipts from the country, for every day we see dozens of loads on the street, offered for sale.—The prices are still maintained at the highest figures, which must be more for the benefit of the farmer, than profit to the purchaser. The ruling figures during the past week, have been for spring wheat, from 92 to 98 cents, the market generally being 8 or 10 cents below Milwaukee quotations, which figures leave little room for shipment buyers. Most of the shipments to go to Milwaukee, by way of the La Crosse road, the St. Louis market not being able to compete for our surplus at the present rates of freight.—Winona Republican.

TIDEWATER RECEIPTS.—The receipts at tidewater of flour, wheat, corn, and barley, for the 51 week of June 1860 and 1859, have been as follows:

The aggregate of the receipts of the above articles so far for the years 1859 and '60, have been:
